

ServSafe Food Handler Course @ www.ServSafe.com

All volunteers serving for Georgetown Eats at Friendship Place are now required to complete the ServSafe Food Handler Class. The Food Handler Class is an introduction to basic food safety and demonstrates commitment to excellence with regards to serving Friendship Place neighbors in a post-pandemic world.

The Food Handler Class is available online and can be taken at home on your own time. If you have the desire to begin or continue to serve your neighbors with Friendship Place, please go online to set up an account and get the material. The course and exam can be taken at your leisure, and you can email or print a copy of the certificate for Friendship Place's records. Here are the steps to acquire the training.

*Go to the website: ServSafe.com

Select Create An Account, to add a profile for with a user id and password

Click ServSafe Food Handler under the blue header

Type South Carolina for your state

*Click ADD TO CART for Servsafe Food Handler Online Course and Assessment BUNDLE

You will be able to sign into your profile, after downloading you will have three months to complete the class. If you need help purchasing ($15.00), Friendship place will be happy to pay, but you will need to go to their office after you create your profile to purchase online in their presence. Please note the class cannot be taken on a phone or tablet since there are minimum computer requirements.

In addition, you may exit the class and return at the spot you left off. Instructions for getting back to the online class are as follows:

Go to the website: Servsafe.com and log in with your user name and password

On blue header, select Go to Dashboard at the Welcome dropdown.

Click on the Blue STUDENT icon and select MY ONLINE COURSES.

You should see your class on the next screen.

Reminder: you should have three months to complete (check website)

If you have any questions or would like to set up an appointment to purchase, please call Cindy McDaniel, Office Administrator for Friendship Place, at 843-545-1115.

As updates to the website are made the chain of directions may change slightly.

Make sure you select the online Food Handling Course.
